

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

MUNICH, Sept. 13.—Prussia formally notified Bavaria of her intention to annex a portion of France as a military frontier.

The Pope has ordered a cessation of resistance to the Italian occupation.

Bismarck, in his official report to the King, dated the 2d, describes his interview with Napoleon. Napoleon wanted better terms of capitulation than the Germans offered. Bismarck refused to discuss the subject, as it was a military question, but he was willing to discuss terms of peace. The Emperor replied that as a prisoner such discussion was impossible, and referred Bismarck to the Government at Paris. Bismarck replied that the situation at Paris offered no entering point for peace overtures. The Emperor proposed that the French army be allowed to pass into Belgium and there surrender, which was refused. The Emperor stated that he despised the horrors of civil war, but he had yielded to public opinion in declaring it. The Emperor was not allowed to see the King until the capitulation was completed.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The Telegraph's Paris correspondent says, the American recognition is really little valued. It is regarded as a mere expression of good will, without material weight in the European system.

On Sunday a Prussian reconnoitering party encountered the French at Chateau Clerry. The Prussians were repulsed with considerable loss.

Queen Isabella and the Prince of Asturias are in Belgium.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The State Department has been officially advised that the Prussians were in 25 miles of Paris on yesterday.

Fugitives from McMahon's army reach the neighborhood of Paris by hundreds.

The Prussians are pumping water from the moats around Strasburg. It is reported that they are preparing to send out balloons from which nitro-glycerine will be dropped into the French magazines.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 14.—Belgium, as yet, has received no formal notification of the establishment of the French Republic.

A special to the Telegraph from London says the Pope repudiates all Victor Emanuel's proposals, but all the Italians in many of the Papal cities celebrate the Italian occupation.

The proclamation of Cremieux announces the approach of the Prussians, and calls for a universal rising to oppose them. He implores the departments outside of Paris to rise against the invaders, and invokes the people by the memories of 1792 to expel the foe introduced by a hateful, incapable Empire.

The Emperor enjoys entire freedom at Wilhelmshöhe. He looks thirty years older than in 1865; is bloated and bilious, with yellow eyes, tired, faint and expressionless. His movements are slow and mechanical. He retires late and rises early. His windows are lighted long after midnight, and at half-past four in the morning. He dresses in plain black, and talks much to school children who gather around to see him.

BERLIN, Sept. 14.—A party of Socialists at Brunswick, charged with intriguing against the Prussian throne, have been sent to a prison on the Russian frontier.

Several Prussian regiments are armed with captured chassepots.

The cause of the explosion of the Lion citadel is being investigated by Baron Von Moltke.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The French troops who entered the Baden territory will remain to operate on the German soil. Reinforcements have been sent to them.

Lord Lyons warns the English to leave the city while they may.

Large sums of money have been subscribed throughout France for defense. Large forces are organizing in every department.

Trochu, in an order to-day says seventy thousand men are on the ramparts, and by persevering efforts may save Paris. The city is unapproachable if its defenders are properly armed.

MADRID, Sept. 15.—Gazeta, the Spanish Minister at Paris, is recalled, his offense being the recognition of the French Republic. This is in violation of the treaty whereby Spain is bound to await the action of other powers.

Communication between Paris and Lyons is destroyed by the Prussians at Montreuil, sixteen miles south-east of Melun. There was a sharp skirmish there.

The News contains a letter from Berlin giving the views of the Prussian Government. It says Prussia will not negotiate with the present French Government. Prussia proposes to occupy Paris, after which the Regency, Senate and Corps Legislatif will be reassembled. This done, the restored Imperial Government will name commissioners to negotiate for peace. When this treaty is signed, Napoleon will be released, and France left free to choose her own Government.

Sixteen bridges over the Seine have been destroyed.

BOULOGNE, Sept. 15.—10:15 P. M.—Part of Bazaine's army have left their way through and are now marching Parisward. Canibert commands.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—Bread and meat have declined, while salt and provisions have advanced.

A new system of signals, with colored lights, has been arranged, and the trees removed, so that the movements of the enemy are visible. Underground wires run from station to station.

Balloons will be used in taking photographs of the city, and the movements of the enemy's advance, for Gen. Trochu.

Troops from Sedan are arriving, including a general in peasant's attire.

The Prussians are closing in around the city in such a way that indicates an attack on the southern and southeastern sides, so as to secure their supplies and at the same time prevent reinforcements from the west and south to the besieged.

Military men of experience here say that the power of the city to resist is limited only by the supply of provisions.

Trochu has 400,000 men under arms.

It is announced that the crown diamonds lodged by the Emperor in the Bank of France were paste, the real ones having been sold through an American dentist named Evans, and the money converted to the use of the Imperial family.

Baneroft writes to Washburne that he can only remain spectator of the conflict. Washburne, communicating the above to Favre, adds that he can only record his protest to this inauspicious war.

Gen. Von Werther delays the final assault upon Strasburg to prevent useless butchery.

TENNESSEE.

THE NASHVILLE CONVENTION.

General John C. Brown Nominated. Special Dispatch to the Chronicle.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 13.—The Democratic Convention met to-day. Gen. Quarles was chosen Chairman.

Gen. John C. Brown was nominated by acclamation.

The whole thing was managed by ex-rebel soldiers. No civilians got to the front.

The platform is a trade against the General Government. There were twelve resolutions adopted. The eleventh reads as follows:

"Resolved, That the present administration of the Federal Government has been persistently subversive of the rights of the States, invasive of the Federal Constitution, and necessarily tending to centralization and the annihilation of local self-government, and unless repudiated by the country will inevitably result in the destruction of republican liberty."

The body was orderly and harmonious, with plenty of speeches and cheers. The nominee made a most eloquent and moderate speech.

On motion, the Convention adjourned sine die. E. WHITTAKER, President. W. B. MINNIS, Secretary.

Republican Meeting in Grainger.

MORGAN, Chm. ALLEN S. TATE, Sec'y.

OUT on the Pacific Railroad, the other day, a Kickapoo Indian saw a locomotive coming down the track toward him at the rate of forty miles an hour. He thought it was an imported breed of buffalo, and he was anxious to secure it, so as to take the prize at the annual exhibition of the Kickapoo Agricultural Society. So he fastened one end of his lasso to his waist-belt, and when the engine got near enough he threw the noose nicely over the smoke stack. Perhaps it is not necessary, but we may as well relate that the locomotive did not stop. The engineer and fireman witnessed the most successful attempt to do the flying trapeze made by any Kickapoo Indian on the plains since the first of last January. There was an aboriginal funeral at the next station when the engine arrived. The grave was not large, for they only buried a small piece of copper-colored meat tied to a string and enclosed in a sardine box.

Sickness, Pain and Death

Legitimately result as penalties for violations of natural laws, from which none can escape.

The faded cheek, the pale and wan features, the dull eye, the clouded intellect, the deep, leaving sick, the feeble and emaciated frame, the dejected brow, the tottering gait, all indicate previous transgression of law. Knowing that "prostration is the thief of time," all intelligent beings apply for some remedy as soon as circumstances permit; while those who do not act upon the principle that "delays are dangerous," generally linger, lose more time and pay more money.

Thousands of mothers and daughters, in all stations and conditions of life, are suffering, lingering and dying from the effects of some dreaded and dreadful

Female Complaint,

That claims its victims throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Many females suffer in some way at each monthly period. Some girls are in great peril at the commencement of menstruation, while others dread its decline at the "turn of life." Sometimes the menstrual flow is too much, or too little, or may be attended with pain; may be irregular or entirely checked, or changed in appearance, attended with other distressing symptoms. Leucorrhoea, or the "Whites," frequently drains the system, or ulceration of the womb may create pain and cause rapid prostration.

Falling of the womb is an exceedingly common complaint, giving much trouble and distress, which, under ordinary treatment, is difficult to cure. (Hysterics, Green Sickness, Irritability of the Womb, and other serious and fatal complaints follow the female sex throughout life. Laves there a medical gentleman who has or can relieve the fair sex of the above troubles? Not many. Is there no combination of remedial agents that will come to her rescue? We answer, Yes.

English Female Bitters.

The only acknowledged Uterine Tonic and Female Regulator known, will cure all those complaints above mentioned in an incredibly short time. The Bitters at once arouses, strengthens and restores the womb to its natural condition, removing obstructions, relieving spasm, and regulating the monthly period. It builds up a pale, feeble and languid girl, just bursting into womanhood; it is the pride of all, but hark! she silently steals a pickle, cuts a cheese, and her appetite for food; she turns with a dull eye, and her eye no longer sparkles, her merry laugh is no longer heard ringing through the air; she mopes about with bloodless lips and gums, with headache, palpitation, constipation, swimming of the head, cold feet and hands, melancholy; she has a coated tongue, offensive breath, and a host of other evils too numerous to mention.

When neglected all these symptoms become aggravated, there is sick stomach, heartburn, a dark line settles under the eyes, the legs and ankles are swollen, the hair loses its gloss and falls, there is brittleness and splitting of the finger-nails, swelling of the abdomen, extreme nervousness, fretfulness, pains and aches, dry cough, hysterical fits, rapid prostration, epilepsy and death! If you, or any of your friends, are thus afflicted, send at once for a Bottle of English Female Bitters and be cured. Its effects are magical in such complaints. Surely no mother will postpone and delay this duty until Death is at the Door.

In all these complaints the system evidently shows a want of red blood, and Mr. Chamberlain, in his work on the use of Females, says: "Bearing in mind that the blood is remarkably deficient in red corpuscles, and the known property of iron to correct this condition, theory suggests it as the most to be relied on, the best of which is a fair test in our practice, as it is a safe and sound principle of vegetable tonics of rare qualities."

Among the mountains of Tennessee and the piney woods of Mississippi, is found a certain hard and flinty root, which has been in secret use by some of our wives for many years, possessing magic powers in regulating and restoring all females suffering with any affection of the womb. This root we have obtained, gave it a fair test in our practice, and it has cured, and cures, all the principal ingredients in these Bitters. Other powerful uterine and general tonics also enter into its composition. We also add Leptandra or Black root, sufficient to act upon the liver and keep the bowels open.

Blooming Young Girls.

Middle-aged matrons, those at the critical period, and the aged grandmothers, are cautioned by the use of our English Female Bitters, now prescribed and used by physicians all over the country.

If you are troubled with Falling of the Womb, attended with a sense of weight and being down pain in the back and side, and other attendant evils, English Female Bitters will give entire relief.

Those at the "turn of life," mothers after confinement, and all others (male or female) who are convalescent from any protracted or debilitating complaint, who gain strength slowly, and whose digestion is slow and imperfect, will find these Bitters the very thing their system demands. It gives a powerful appetite, aids and assists digestion, arouses the liver, strengthens mentally and physically, and fills the whole system with pure crimson blood coursing through its channels.

Common Groshop Bitters

Empty bitter bottles, of various styles, can be found almost everywhere, and are advertised to cure almost every disease, while the manufacturers know they possess no medicinal properties whatever. They are so many disguised for exceedingly common beverages, which do not, nor cannot, possibly cure any one.

Beware of these pleasant bitters in quart bottles; they contain a sting for your vitals, and he who buys them carries a "poison" grog into his house. One man who knows nothing about medicine, says his big bottles of common stuff will cure chills and fever, rheumatism and consumption; another, whose bottle is very fancy, cures all impurities of the blood, makes old men young, cures out devils, restores sight to the blind, and numerous other miracles; while yet another, who presumes every man a drunkard, proposes to cure colic, indigestion, yellow fever, heart disease and love-sick passions! We know they make no such cures; we know the people at large are deceived and swindled, and as we desire to ventilate these common humbugs, make the following challenge to one and all:

One Hundred Dollars

That one tablespoonful of ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS contains as much medicinal properties as one bottle of any of the pleasantly tasted, common advertised bitters of the day! The medical profession to decide the question. Be it understood that the English Female Bitters is not a beverage, but is a powerful Iron and Vegetable Tonic combined, curing the standing chronic female complaints in every direction.
